are now said to be in the mountains near Matamoros.

Railroad Out.
The bridge at Aguas, which was destroyed by fire Thursday morning, was 200 feet in length and the nature of the river bed did not permit of it being cribbed, necessitating the laying of a track across the river to connect with the road on the other side. The passenger trains from Saltillo, in the meantime, will come west as far as Pallas. Main will come by way of Monterrey. It is also said that an attempt was made to burn the International bridge at Hornos.

Another Bridge Burned.
Communication was interrupted between Torreon and Saltillo Thursday morning when the 200-foot bridge 23 miles out of Torreon on the Coahuila Pacific railroad was completely destroyed by fire, presumably by revolutionary sympathizers.

Six men have been arrested in the vicinity of Bihao charged with complicity in the robbery of the store of Manuel Abascal, which resulted in the shooting through error of a son of the local judge and of the killing of Abascal by the judge. The prisoners are said to be not revolutionists but local malefactors.

Troops for Juarez.
A carload of ammunition and nearly 400 troops passed through here Wednesday en route to Chihuahua and Juarez. They came to Torreon on a special train and were transferred to the sub passenger train at this point for the north.

It seems that the long bridge at Aguas was burned about the same time that an attempt was made to destroy the bridge on the main line near Hornos. A light freight happened to pass at that point, however, before the fire on the Hornos bridge had gained headway and it was extinguished before great damage was done. This crew escaped the attention of the inspectors but a later train did not and when, at 2 o'clock a regular freight with engineer Baloun and conductor E. H. Martinez approached kilometer 100, the train was fired upon. The engineer put on more steam and refused to stop, whereupon a regular fusillade ensued, several hundred shots being fired, many of them striking the engine and cars. The caboose was also hit at Engineer Baloun escaped injury, but Martinez, who is a Texas Mexican, was shot twice, the tip of his nose being cut off and another bullet entering his body under his left arm and coming out under his right nipple. He was taken to Hornos and there a caboose and engine took him to San Pedro, where he was sent into Torreon. He is at his home here and will recover unless complications set in.

Many Armed Men.
A band of 600 men is reported to be at Nalca and passengers on the Central train report word having been sent to camp promising an attack on Thursday. The band that assaulted Matamoros Thursday liberated the prisoners and destroyed official records.

Later.
It is rumored this morning that in the encounter at Matamoros the commandante of police was killed as was also the alcalde of the jail, Manuel Rocha. The report also states that Valentin Rios, a member of the scordada, was wounded.

New Life Named.
At 5 o'clock Friday afternoon, Lieut. Col. Francisco del Palacio, an active officer in the Mexican army, who has been in the city since the revolution of 1911, became jefe politico of the municipality of Viesca succeeding Mauro de la Pena.

NAVARRO REPAIRING BURNED BRIDGES
Advancing Federal Reinforcements Find Big Task on Railroad.

Chihuahua, Mexico, Feb. 12.—The army of Navarro encountered 22 bridges which had been burned between this city and Villa Ahumada, and all of the troops were set to work repairing the bridges while making the march. There are four other bridges between Villa Ahumada and Ciudad Juarez burned by the insurgents. Reconstruction of the bridges is under the direction of Vito Alessio Robles, chief of the engineers, and Ramon Ceballos. Timber for reconstructing the bridges was taken from Chihuahua.

Col. Samuel Garcia Cuellar was sent out from Chihuahua with scouting parties, but failed to find any insurgents, though some were reported to have been in Mesquite canyon between Gallego and Varas.

ANOTHER “ATTACK”
Somebody set off a few packages of firecrackers on the hill along Upon avenue Saturday night about 9 o'clock and several telephone messengers came at once to The Herald stating that there had been an insurrecto attack upon Juarez near the union station.

INSURRECTOS HAVE OVERLOOKED FLAGS

Have No Banner Around Which the Men May Rally in Fight.

The Mexican insurrectos have no flag, and the oversight would be a serious handicap to them in seeking recognition if they should get into position to ask or expect recognition.

They cannot use the Mexican flag. That could only be theirs by complete victory resulting in the overthrow of the Mexican government. To wait for that to come to pass would probably call for more patience than insurrectos possess.

What though the revoltosos take Chihuahua, Juarez, or any other city, how will they emphasize their hold upon it?

For the Mexican revoltosos have no flag to plant upon the citadel or anywhere else.

Possibly some friend of the insurrectos will give them a gentle hint that a flag, a “rag,” an ensign or something their cause a belligerent one.

EIGHTY-FIVE MEXICANS CROSS BORDER AT YSLETA
Sixty Mexicans, said to be insurrecto sympathizers, crossed at Ysleta in one body Saturday night and 35 more crossed over in one body Sunday. All were bound, it is said, for Gen. Dolores Palomino's camp at Saragosa, and none of them were armed.

NO BULL FIGHT IN JUAREZ ON SUNDAY

Was Extensively Advertised and Called Off at Last Moment.

There was no bullfight after all in Ciudad Juarez Sunday afternoon. Permission had been given by the municipal and army officials, and the coming attraction, which would have been the first in many weeks, was advertised and anticipated with eagerness by the hungry bullfight fans.

But at the last moment the permission was revoked, why was not told. Some said that Navarero was about to arrive and that the bull ring would be needed for his horses. Others held that it was too windy and that a fight would be dangerous.

The keno houses were open and the crowds from the rooms thrived the appearance of things. Many curious went to see the Mexican soldiers and the customary number of drunks of all nationalities were to be seen.

The keno and poker houses were closed at 6 o'clock by the authorities.

COL. RABAGO WILL BE GIVEN BANQUET

Chihuahua, Mex., Feb. 13.—An incident which aroused considerable indignation among many foreigners here several days ago has just been made known to your correspondent.

R. G. McCullough, who runs a little store on East Aldama street, was arrested on a charge of being suspected of lending aid to the revolutionary cause and railroaded to the penitentiary, where he was placed in a dark cell with a damp, stone floor on which he was compelled to spend the night without a vestige of bedding or the semblance of a chair or box on which to sit.

The next day a fellow prisoner heard of the sad plight of the unfortunate man and succeeded in getting a note and a friend of McCullough's, in turn to a friend of the facts and asking him to notify the American consul.

This man called upon vice consul C. M. Leonard immediately and the two went to the penitentiary. Mr. Leonard inquired as to the charge or charges that had been preferred and, being convinced that they were absolutely without foundation, demanded an immediate trial, which was granted, with the result that McCullough was a free man in a few minutes.

In discussing the matter with vice consul Leonard soon after his release, McCullough stated that he remembered with the officer who put him in the cell about having no bedding on the ground and that he, being a Gringo, was no better than a burro.

ROADS STILL IDLE OUT OF C. JUAREZ

Both the National and the Mexico North Western railways are out of commission up to eight kilometers of Ciudad Juarez. A bridge eight kilometers south was burned on the North Western last week, and now it is known that a bridge 145 feet long on the National line was destroyed at the same time at eight kilometers south.

While both roads are useless at present, there is much switch engine activity in the Juarez yards. Engines dash about all day, bringing cars from one track to another, just as if nothing had happened. Serious attempts to repair bridges have been given up for a time.

AMERICAN JAILED WITHOUT ANY CAUSE

American Consul, When He Learns of It, Soon Effects Release.

Chihuahua, Mex., Feb. 13.—An incident which aroused considerable indignation among many foreigners here several days ago has just been made known to your correspondent.

R. G. McCullough, who runs a little store on East Aldama street, was arrested on a charge of being suspected of lending aid to the revolutionary cause and railroaded to the penitentiary, where he was placed in a dark cell with a damp, stone floor on which he was compelled to spend the night without a vestige of bedding or the semblance of a chair or box on which to sit.

RECRUITS FOR THE INSURRECTO ARMY

Following a visit to the town of Gen. Dolores Palomino, second in command of the insurrecto army, many recruits crossed over the river at Ysleta, bound for Saragosa, where there is said to be a force of 500 men. Palomino made the trip to Ysleta in an automobile for the purpose of interesting Mexicans there in the cause.

Those who crossed the river were unarmed and went in small numbers, some singly, others groups of two or three, and nearly all well mounted. One old Mexican coach, which must be at least 50 years old, attracted much attention. It is an ordinary covered coach with large springs and the seats in the back face each other while there is a place provided for baggage. This was filled by persons going to join Palomino's force at Saragosa.

Gen. Palomino, while in Ysleta declared that when the insurrection started there were but 20 men in the band and they had but four pistols among them but now the movement is spreading.

STRICT WATCH ON PAPERS BEING SOLD IN JUAREZ

There was a grand ensemble of newspapers in Ciudad Juarez Sunday morning, and all were received by jefe politico Martinez. The cause of the roundup is not exactly known, but the Mexican newspapers were told that they would be “muzzed” and recorded as criminals, and that each would be given a badge with a number on it. Later in the day a police officer visited all stores and asked what newspapers were sold, recording the information for official consumption. So a newspaper crusade is being threatened.

“MILLIONAIRE HOBBO” WANTS SHELTER FOR THE HOMELESS.

Chicago, Ill., Feb. 13.—After a two years' tour of the United States, disguised as a hobbo, Edward A. Brown, of Denver, known as the “millionaire tramp,” arrived in Chicago yesterday. Mr. Brown has concluded his investigation of sociological conditions that took him from his home.

The result of his countrywide investigation will be put in book form in the hope that municipalities will be awakened to the “crying need of shelter homes for the friendless and penniless.”

Mr. Brown says he will devote his life to bettering the condition of the hobbo.

BIG PAN-AMERICAN CONFERENCE OPENS

Will Make Plans for International Opening of the Panama Canal.

Washington, D. C., Feb. 13.—Many delegates to the Pan-American commercial conference, which occupies the entire week, are arriving here today and the indications are that it will be the most comprehensive gathering the commercial interests ever held in this country. Many Latin-American diplomats and consular officers will participate in the general discussion of the conference.

Steps to be taken by the business interests in America in preparing for the opening of the Panama canal, and conditions surrounding the exchange of commerce between two continents are subjects the conference will take up. With the exception of the opening session today, no set speeches have been scheduled.

LIFE INSURANCE COMPANIES

They Are Closely Observing Public Health Conditions.

An examining physician for one of the prominent life insurance companies, in an interview on the subject, made the astonishing statement that the reason why so many applicants for insurance are rejected is because kidney trouble is so common to the American people, and the large majority of applicants do not even suspect that they have the disease.

He states that judging from his own experience and reports from druggists who are constantly in direct touch with the public, there is one preparation that has probably been more successful in relieving and curing these diseases than any remedy known. The mild and healing influence of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its remarkable record of cures.

We find that Swamp-Root is strictly an herbal compound and we would advise our readers who feel in need of such a remedy to give it a trial. It is on sale at all drug stores in bottles of two sizes—fifty-cents and one-dollar. However, if you wish first to test its wonderful merits, send to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Rinehamton, N. Y., for a sample bottle, absolutely free. When writing be sure and mention the El Paso Daily Herald.
